01. 'Human Language' concept?

Clarify the concept of 'Human Language'.

02. "Modern linguistics differs from the nineteenth century linguistics in that it gives priority to the structural description of language." Enquire.

03. 'Sentence' connotation, 'Sentence' connotation?

Are Saussure's 'Langue' and Chomsky's 'Language competence' the same or two different aspects of language?

04. Point out how the descriptive linguistics and traditional grammar differ from each other.
05. Write a note on three sub-systems of language which may be abstracted in the analysis of language.

06. Identify ‘Dialect’ by showing a few dialectal features appeared in Sinhala.

07. ‘The difference between speech and writing is common to all literary languages; but ‘Diglossia’ confines itself to a handful of languages.’ Elaborate.

08. Give out the basic reason for the assumption that the descriptive (Synchronic) dimension is more basic than the historical (Diachronic) dimension of the analysis of language.