01. "Phonetics is the scientific study of Speech sounds." Discuss.

02. Introduce active and passive articulators and describe their significance in the production of speech sounds.

03. "Relatively unobstructed sounds are called ‘Vowel Sounds.’" Discuss.
04. Introduce air stream mechanisms and describe their significance in the production of consonant sounds.

05. Describe co-articulation.

06. Introduce the Nasal Sounds given in the IPA chart and discuss Nasal Sounds of a language known to you.

07. Introduce the Stop Sounds given in the IPA chart and discuss Stop Sounds of a language known to you.

08. Describe Nasalization of Vowels and Consonants with examples.