No. of Questions: 06  Time: 03 hours

1. Discuss the theme of envy as a powerful tool of self-destruction in Othello by William Shakespeare.

2. Evaluate William Shakespeare’s The Tempest from a postcolonial perspective by highlighting the exploitation of the powerless in the clutches of those who wield power and authority.

3. ‘The sworn contempt between families is subject to change due to a chain of fateful events triggered by youthful passion.’ Discuss with reference to Romeo and Juliet by William Shakespeare.

4. Discuss the portrayal of the women characters as agents who challenge traditional gender roles in at least two plays written by William Shakespeare that are prescribed in your syllabus.

5. Discuss the significance of passion as a force that permeates into every aspect of life in Othello by William Shakespeare.

6. ‘The pathos depicted in William Shakespeare’s tragedies shed light on moral issues that are of universal significance.’ Discuss with reference to at least two plays written by William Shakespeare that are prescribed in your syllabus.

* * * *